Dear sir,

I'm writing this letter due to the last interview that you have taken on our company. First of all, We would like to thank you for coming to the interview that's mean you are a motivated person who is wanna work. Second, Unfortunately you wasn't selected for the job due to some lack of experience and training also we noticed that you have a poor communication skills that also made the decision to select you more complicated. Furthermore, We promise you to call you in any available interview in the future that goes with you competence and skills. To sum up everything that has been stated so far, We hope you the best as times goes with us in the future or with another company.

Best regards,
Mehdi haddioui,
